

A3 Communications Provides Relief to Meals by Grace

Firm Funds Refrigerated Food Truck Repairs

NORCROSS, Ga. (March 28, 2018) — Embodying A3 Communications' mission of enriching its communities, firm President and CEO Brian Thomas and Vice President of Sales Hunter Thornton volunteered at the Meal By Grace Warehouse in Cumming, Ga., on March 4. Following an impassioned speech about the non-profit organization's needs from Director Suellen Daniels, Thomas donated $3,800.00 to repair a critical refrigerated food delivery vehicle.

Fill Ministries, the umbrella organization that includes Meals by Grace, The Resource Lab and The Job Sight, relies on volunteer support to supply and deliver hot meals and shelf-staple food, serving more than 180 Dawson, Forsyth and Hall County families each week. This integral service was interrupted when the Dawson County Mobile Pantry, which provides a month's worth of food to 140 people, required costly repairs to continue service.

"This truck has so many uses and is of such value to us. Having it repaired is great and having A3 Communications pay for the repair so we can move forward with feeding children unhampered by an unexpected hit to the budget? That's priceless," said Daniels.

In addition to delivering meals and transporting donations, the truck is currently being used for its hydraulic lift as Meals by Grace moves its walk-in cooler and freezer to another location. The community is providing additional freezers to store the food, but the non-profit requires the truck relocate them.

"By working with Fill Ministries, we learned that Meals by Grace partners with local schools to identify hungry students to relieve food insecurity at the root of the source: the home," said Thornton. "Once we realized the Mobile Pantry needed repair, we knew they couldn't go another day without the resource that not only delivers food to other organizations and homes, but moves donations from several food banks to their walk-in freezer and cooler."
