

Several A3 Communications' Employees Earn Sought-after IT Certifications

COLUMBIA, SC (June 19, 2013) — A3 Communications, an information technology (IT) and communications firm serving the Southeast, announced today that four employees recently earned various technology-related certifications.

Virtualization and Backup Specialist, James Grice, became a Unitrends Certified Professional. Unitrends is a revolutionary approach to backup and disaster recovery. To gain this designation, Grice demonstrated his expert knowledge on Unitrends products and services by studying and successfully completing a 150-question exam.

Devin Isentol, Systems Engineer, earned the Cisco Certified Network Professional (CCNP) Voice certification. In order to receive this designation, Isentol successfully completed a series of five exams, proving his expert knowledge in implementing, operating, configuring and troubleshooting converged IP networks.

Peter MacClellan, Systems Engineer (Charleston office) has received his CCNP Route Switch certification. MacClellan successfully completed a series of three exams, proving his expert knowledge in planning, implementing, verifying and troubleshooting local and wide-area enterprise networks and working collaboratively with specialists on advanced security, voice, wireless and video solutions.

Senior Physical Security Engineer, Tristan Soule, has become an Open Options Fusion Essentials Software Certified Technician. Open Options is a leading IP-based access control solution. For this specific designation, Soule completed a hands-on, four-day training course. The course offered overviews in hardware, software installation, basic system setup, administration as well as operation. Ultimately, Soule successfully passed a comprehensive exam proving his knowledge in Open Options' DNA Fusion software.

"We're so proud of our staff and their recent accomplishments. These certifications not only verify their knowledge in their subject areas, but allow our clients to feel that they're working with the very best in the industry. We take our jobs seriously and these accreditations help prove that," said Brian Thomas, President of A3 Communications.
